

Second Class Drama

02/21/20

Russell boy has been going to his second round of classes this past February to show off his new moves to the ladies. He loves to fool around and get random pets from people he doesn't know (that sweetheart). Luckily, he has the constant entourage of his reasonable human mom and lovable grandma. Showing him all the love and encouragement to attempt new lessons and learn. For his classes, there are supposed to be 4 enrolled pup-students but only half the class attends! Luckily Russell makes sure to be ready by the door for anything(because he just likes going out of the house especially to the park!!!); once you put that harness on him with the leash, he KNOWS he is going out.
